We help you rise above the risk management challenge.

INTRODUCING INCONSULT

Established in 2001, InConsult is a specialist risk management consulting firm with local and international experience.

We provide a comprehensive range of risk management and enterprise governance solutions to help organisations better understand threats, effectively manage risks, improve internal controls and maximise opportunities.

Our growth is testimony to our ability to understand the needs of our clients and deliver effective and efficient risk management and enterprise governance solutions.

Setting strategy and achieving corporate objectives is your business. Helping you better manage risks to support your strategy is our business. Together, we help you stay in control.

RISK MANAGEMENT IS OUR BUSINESS

Regardless of which country, industry or regulatory regime you operate in, we believe that an effective risk management framework is critical to good corporate governance, quality operations and reliable financial information.

We also believe that risk management is a shared responsibility and an ongoing process. Therefore risk management processes should be aligned to the organisations needs, be cost effective and add value wherever possible.

To flourish, risk management needs a strong risk culture, driven from the top, supported by adequately trained and capable people using leading edge technology.

At InConsult, we specialise in risk management. This means we can offer our clients a distinctive range of services covering risk management consulting, technology, recruitment and training.

By choosing InConsult, you choose the one organisation that can help you implement a complete end-to-end risk management solution. We can help you develop, plan, implement and resource the entire risk management program or just the components you need.

INSIGHT, OUTLOOK, RESULT

We know that nobody knows your business better than you. From time-to-time however, specifically when regulations or circumstances change, specialist assistance can provide the necessary resources to achieve strategic goals faster.

What sets us apart is our ability to integrate our broad business experience with risk management to gain an insight into your problem and develop an outlook for the future to achieve results.

Working with InConsult, Chief Executives, Finance Directors, Risk and Compliance Professionals can benefit from our experience and access a range of risk management services to solve problems and deliver improvement opportunities.

OUR PEOPLE

The quality of advice, the value of ideas and soundness of strategy – all critical to you – depends entirely upon the quality of our people.

We are the risk management people. We draw our capabilities from a team of qualified consultants and a network of experienced professionals.

Our consultants are driven by a desire to help organisations achieve their objectives by helping them manage enterprise wide risks. We have an experienced and diverse team of highly qualified professionals providing the foundation of our reputation for service and delivering results.
